Jeff Bezos Announcement

Jeff Bezos asked the world how to donate his money.

"With a net worth of $86 billion, Jeff Bezos certainly has enough money to change the world. What he's lacked, apparently, was some direction for how to spend it. In mid-June, the Amazon founder tweeted a "request for ideas" worth philanthropically investing in that would help society, both short-term–"here and now"–and in the long run, as he put it: "at the "intersection of urgent need and lasting impact."
